

PROTECTING OUR FAMILIES

Proposed changes to the public charge rule could lead to hardship and economic loss for thousands of our neighbors and vulnerable families.

The current administration's proposed changes to the public charge rule would severely limit whether legal immigrants can get assistance with housing, food and health access without jeopardizing their chance at obtaining permanent residency and, in turn, their pathway to citizenship.

We stand united with all families to live healthy productive lives and ask you to make your voice heard at:
